

it's Good to KNOW

By and large, the topic of intimacy according to הלכה and in the spirit of the תורה remains unspoken and mysterious.

To make matters more challenging, much of what is known on the topic comes from secular sources, particularly with the advent of the internet and the constant bombardment from the media.

The results are tragic!

עת לעשות לה!

We must preserve the uniqueness and the sanctity of the Jewish family.

There is an absolute need to communicate the views and requirements of the שולחן ערוך without any of the common ambiguity, and in a manner that is refined and avoids any trace of vulgarity.

Married couple need to know that they can achieve a G-dly life together. True intimacy can be reached. Both in the marriage relationship and in their partnership with הקדוש ברוך הוא.

I have been involved with the production of this film since its inception and I fully support its objectives. The film portrays proper הלכה, and its content may be viewed by all audiences.

תנן and כלל teachers have reviewed the film and they support and encourage its production.

The Lost Key touches upon the most sensitive of topics, one which has been neglected due to the secrecy that surrounds it.

Now more than ever, this education is a must for the preservation and survival of the בית יהודי, the Jewish Family unit.

Rabbi Manis Friedman